Présentation

Description

Adaptation of Shakespeare's Canon on Screen

"This class is dedicated to the critical analysis of Shakespeare's plays adapted on screen in the 20th and 21st centuries. After a panoramic approach of key films of the period (such as Max Reinhardt and William Dieterle's A Midsummer Night's Dream, 1935), key film-makers (like Laurence Olivier, Orson Welles, John Gielgud, Peter Hall, Peter Brook, Kenneth Branagh among others) and a perusal of some theoretical tools to analyse film adaptation (see advised bibliography), the students will be asked to present a film of their choice and discuss its key features to question the purpose of adaptation."
