

Intensive or semi-intensive French language teaching

Presentation

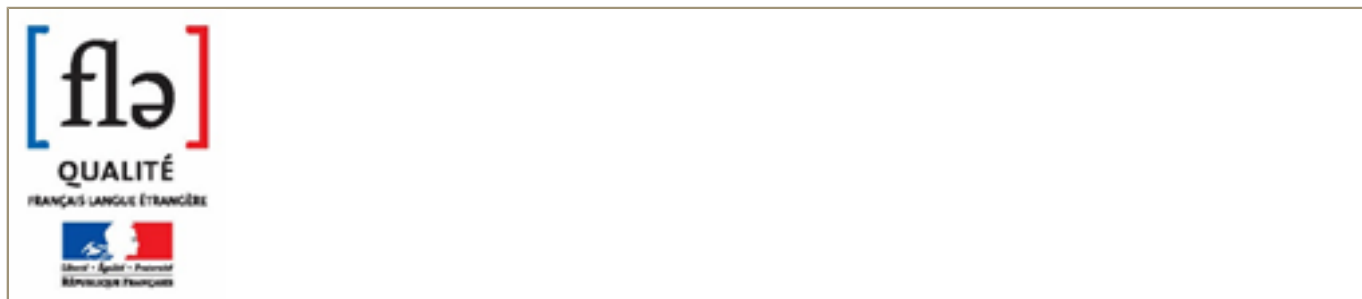

These classes are based on a dynamic method, the use of authentic documents and the choice of varied themes so that the learner is fully involved in his or her learning. For the learner it will involve acquiring and developing spoken and written communication skills, carrying out authentic tasks and interacting in diverse situations.

Intensive method (during the working day)

20 hours of classes per week, with 4 hours of classes per day, from Monday to Friday, in the morning or afternoon.

After a placement test, the students are split into the levels below (CEFR):

- A1 – Discovery
- A2 – Survival
- B1 – Threshold
- B2 – Independent
- C1 – Autonomous
- C2 – Master

The Ministries of Higher Education and Research, Foreign and European affairs and Culture and Communication decided to implement a certification initiative for French as a foreign language centres based on French soil.
